Mysterious Massachusetts by Geekgal

Friday, November 3rd @ 4:00 – 5:30 PM

Every state has its ghost stories, but no other state has the Dover Demon or the Salem Witch Trials. From sea-side ghosts, to UFOs over the Berkshires, Massachusetts has a rich history of paranormal legend, odd events, and strange denizens. In this presentation, we have a look at some of the weirdest things the Bay State has to offer.

Sarah Hodge-Wetherbe is a library associate with the Springfield City Library. She has been touring around New England lecturing on various aspects of pop culture for over 10 years. She's performed for all sorts of venues from The Norman Rockwell Museum to the Massachusetts library association. She loves a good ghost story, thinks Christopher Reeve was the best superman, and prefers a good cup of earl gray tea, hot.

Rebel Music: Native America

Wednesday, November 15th @ 3:00 – 4:00 PM

Come join us at Cotuit library to watch another amazing video about the power of music.

MTV describes this fantastic cultural program as such:

“Rebel Music: Native America is one episode of a six-part documentary film series that explores the lives of young people who are using their art and music to ignite social and political change around the world. Rebel Music: Native America highlights Native American musicians who are using their art to inspire and transform their communities and the places they travel. This powerful story from South Dakota, Chilliwack, British Columbia, Canada, and New York City depicts the lives of four characters: Frank Waln, a Lakota hip-hop artist who is fighting to save the environment, Inez Jasper a Skowkale musician who is bringing awareness to missing and murdered indigenous women in Canada, and Nataanii Means and Mike Cliff (aka Witko), Oglala Sioux from Pine Ridge Reservation in South Dakota who are encouraging youth to find strength and inspiration through music amidst high suicide rates in their community. These musicians demand positive change for their communities, harnessing the power of music to elevate their voices and escalate awareness. They understand that the future of their communities is at risk and are fighting in hopes of a more promising existence.” (www.mtv.com)

This movie is part of our Royston Nash Music Appreciation Series, supported in part by the Arts Foundation of Cape Cod, the Mid Cape Cultural Council, and the Kirkman Trust.

Author Talk: Joyce A. Prince

Wednesday, November 29th @ 6:30 – 7:30 PM

Come to Cotuit Library as we listen to Joyce A. Prince discuss the story of her recent book about Mary Chilton Winslow, a passenger and survivor on the Mayflower. Amazon describes the book as such:

“This is the story of Mary Chilton Winslow, survivor of the Mayflower voyage. If James Chilton and his family had not been courageous and willing to sacrifice their country and comfortable life in England and Holland to seek religious freedom, the story of Mary Chilton Winslow would not be known. We will never know the extent of the frightening moments aboard the Mayflower nor the harrowing adventures experienced by a thirteen year old girl (an orphan) but we can imagine some of her feelings of loneliness and isolation in a new place. From the story we have an idea of Mary's perseverance, stamina, and willingness to accompany her parents on a voyage which will go down in history as an amazing step in the creation of a new settlement and the beginning of a new country: America.” (www.amazon.com)
